

16th FIAP NATURE BIENNIAL

2012

As president of the Norwegian Photographic Society (NSFF), I take great pride in our having organized the 16th FIAP Nature Biennial. The last time NSFF hosted a FIAP biennial was in 1966. The 9th FIAP Congress was held in Norway that year and, following tradition, we also organized the 9th FIAP Black and White Biennial. 1966 was also the year of the very first FIAP Youth Print Biennial.

NSFF celebrates its 85th anniversary this year, and the 16th Nature Biennial has been one of many activities during this special year. There will also be an exhibition at FIAP's headquarters in Paris, presenting 50 photos from NSFF's anniversary exhibition at Preus Museum this summer. Preus Museum is Norway's national museum of photography, and we are very proud to have had an exhibition there of 220 photographs representing the breadth of Norwegian photography as seen in our national championships, which have been held annually since 1930.

Our members have shown an increasing interest in competing internationally in the FIAP approved salons, and we are especially proud of our national youth teams having done well in the Youth Biennial of both 2011 and 2012.

As for the 16th Nature Biennial, all the practicalities were taken care of by Bodø Fotoklubb, and the committee definitely deserve credit for their organizing efforts: A big thank you goes to Hans Birkelund, Olav-Inge Alfheim, Bjørn Hagerupsen, Kent Even Grundstad, Eivind Nilsen, Geir-Arne Jørgensen and Øyvind Hansen.

The jury consisted of Jacky Martin, vice president of FIAP, Ioannis Lykouris, FIAP board member and in charge of the FIAP biennials, and the Norwegian photographer Ernst Furuhatt.

Authors from 27 countries from all over the world took part in this biennial, and nearly 800 pictures were exhibited. In the print category, there were authors from 24 countries, and the projected images category saw authors from 25 countries. The photos taken by the medallists were on display in Bodø as well as in Kristiansund during the Nordic Light International Photo Festival in April. Congratulations to everyone and in particular to the authors from Italy, who won both categories.

President of the Norwegian Photographic Society

En tant que président de la Norwegian Photographic Society (NSFF), je suis très honoré que l'organisation de la 16ème Biennale FIAP Nature nous ait été confiée. La dernière fois que la NSFF a organisé une biennale FIAP était en 1966. Le 9ème Congrès FIAP eut lieu en Norvège cette année-là et, selon la tradition, nous avons aussi organisé la 9ème Biennale FIAP Noir et Blanc. 1966 fut aussi l'année de la toute première Biennale FIAP Jeunesse, photos papier. NSFF fête cette année son 85ème anniversaire, et la 16ème Biennale Nature a été une des nombreuses activités lors de cette année particulière. Bientôt se tiendra une exposition au siège de la FIAP à Paris présentant 50 photos tirées de l'exposition anniversaire de la NSFF au Musée Preus de cet été. Le musée Preus est le musée national Norvégien de la photographie et nous nous targuons d'y avoir organisé une exposition de 220 photographies représentant le panel de la photographie Norvégienne tel que l'on peut l'observer lors de nos championnats nationaux annuels depuis 1930.

Nos membres ont manifesté un intérêt croissant envers la compétition internationale lors des salons patronnés FIAP et nous sommes particulièrement fiers de nos juniors nationaux qui ont obtenu de bons résultats dans les Biennes Jeunesse de 2011 et 2012.

Quant à la 16ème Biennale Nature tous les détails pratiques furent pris en charge par le Bodø Fotoklubb et le comité mérite d'être salué chaleureusement pour ses efforts d'organisation: Un grand merci à Hans Birkelund, Olav-Inge Alfheim, Bjørn Hagerupsen, Kent Even Grundstad, Eivind Nilsen, Geir-Arne Jørgensen et Øyvind Hansen.

Le jury était constitué de Jacky Martin, vice-président de la FIAP, de Ioannis Lykouris, membre du comité directeur de la FIAP et directeur du service biennale FIAP et du photographe Norvégien Ernst Furuhatt.

Les participants de 27 pays des quatre coins du monde ont concouru lors de cette biennale, et environ 800 images furent exposées. Dans la catégorie photos papier étaient représentés des auteurs de 24 pays, et dans celle des images projetées, de 25 pays. Les photos prises par les lauréats ont été exposées à Bodø ainsi qu'à Kristiansund pendant le festival photographique international Nordic Light en avril. Félicitations à tous les participants et particulièrement aux auteurs Italiens qui ont gagné les deux catégories.

16th FIAP NATURE BIENNIAL

It was the turn of a Nordic country this time to organize a Nature Biennial; of a country that enjoys an exceptional nature.

The participation was impressive, many works have arrived, coming from different countries and different authors, showing the varied aspect of photographers in representation of birds, flowers, landscapes and natural phenomena on paper or digital files. Among them, however, were some works, often of remarkable quality, that did not meet the definition of Nature Photography given by FIAP. This is why the jury was forced to exclude some pictures of domesticated animals as well as photographs of cultivated plants or pictures representing human constructions.

Italy, once again, was the winner and deserves congratulations together with Norway that led the 16th FIAP Nature Biennial to success.

Ioannis Lykouris EFIAP, ESFIAP

Member of the FIAP DB
Director of the FIAP Biennial Service

C'était le tour d'un pays nordique cette fois d'organiser une Biennale Nature, d'un pays qui profite d'une nature exceptionnelle.

La participation était impressionnante ; plusieurs œuvres sont arrivées, venant de différents pays et de différents auteurs et montrant l'aspect varié de photographes concernant la représentation d'oiseaux, de fleurs, de paysages et de phénomènes naturels sur papier ou fichier digital. Parmi ces œuvres il y en avait cependant quelques unes, souvent d'une qualité remarquable, qui ne respectaient pas la définition de la Photographie Nature donnée par la FIAP. C'était la raison pour laquelle le jury a été obligé d'exclure certaines photos d'animaux domestiqués ainsi que des photos de plantes cultivées ou des photos qui représentaient des constructions humaines.

L'Italie, pour une fois encore était le grand vainqueur et mérite des félicitations avec la Norvège qui a mené en réussite la 16ème Biennale Nature de la FIAP.
